

FLOWN WEST

Bradley (Brad) Bowers

05/12/1936 ~ 11/04/2016

Bradley (Brad) Bowers, 80 years of age, passed away on November 4, 2016 in Las Vegas. Brad, who was born in Iowa on May 11, 1936, was preceded in death by his parents Sam Bowers and Clara Bradley. Brad is survived by his wife Deedee (Diane) Frame of Las Vegas. He is also survived by his son Jimmy (Jeannie) Bowers and his grandchildren Ashley, Talin, and Grace all of North Bend, Washington. He is also mourned by Deedee's sons, Rick and Randy and Randy's family of California.

Brad spent 29 years loving his job as a pilot for the famous Flying Tigers Airline. As pilot in command, he flew 747s across the Pacific for most of aviation career. Brad and Deedee previously lived in Issaquah, Washington for several years before settling in Las Vegas in 1994. After retiring from flying, Brad enjoyed his new job as the owner of a tool repair business. Brad was known for his generosity to his family, his friends, and his neighbors as well as for his love for his faithful dogs, JD and Goldie.

Cremation has taken place. Services in Washington will be announced at a later date. Friends who wish to remember Brad may send a donation to an organization dear to Brad's heart -- ALPA (Air Line Pilots Association), 535 Herndon Pkwy, Herndon VA 20170.

The family wishes to thank the wonderful staff in the Expressions Unit at Mira Loma for their compassionate and loving care of Brad these last four months. On your next flight, when your captain is speaking, think of Brad!

Published in The Seattle Times on Nov. 20, 2016

- See more at: http://www.legacy.com/obituaries/seattl ... dl9zg.dpuf